TRIMBLE

May Bolt the Seventh Congressional District Convention if He Can't Control It.

IS BLUE OVER PROSPECTS

His Followers Make Threats Which May Precipitate Lively Times if They Are Carried Out.

A MONKEY AND PARROT TIME

PARIS, Ky., July 10.—The congressional convention for this (Seventh) district convenes here this afternoon. There is already full assurance of a big delegation and much interest in the convention's work.

South Trimble, it is said, has become frightened over the prospects of defeat and threatens to bolt the convention on the grounds of unfair treatment.

Moody and Allen's friends can and will organize the convention. If this is done and results in the seating of the regular delegation from Owen Trimble will be defeated. This he recognizes and is blue over and hence his threat of bolting.

There is talk of threat on the part of the Trimble delegates to force their way into the convention and secure badges and hold their places. The promise is that there will be a monkey and parrot time at best.

PARIS, Ky., July 10; 2:45 p. m.—The Seventh district convention is in a big row. The anti-Trimbleites organized and adjourned until tonight. The Trimbleites are holding a rump convention, calling the opposition robbers, thieves, etc. Things promise to be even livelier tonight.

THE CASES AGAINST THE SAFE BLOWERS CONTINUED.

Will Phoebe be Fined $30 and Costs and George Dozier $10 and Costs for Whipping Women.

There was large crowd of spectators in the police court today, many being attracted by the safe-blowers trial.

Charles, alias French and George Wilkinson, the accused burglars and safe blowers, were represented by Attorney W. A. Berry. The commonwealth announced through County Attorney Graves that it had just learned of important witnesses, and asked a continuance, which was granted until Thursday.

The case against Sterling Fitzgerald, colored, for maliciously cutting Allen Jackson, colored, was continued until Thursday.

Jacob C. Cunningham, a well known plasterer, was charged with maliciously assaulting John Boike on May 13th last, by throwing two bricks at him, one striking him on the left arm, breaking it between the elbow and wrist. The case was continued until Thursday.

George Dozier, colored, for beating Lulu Parker, colored, was fined $10 and costs.

Will Phoebe, colored, for beating Maria Goodwin, because she took some money from him, was fined $30 and costs and the court told him as consolation that if it were not for the woman's reputation he would have fined him $100 and maybe sent him to jail besides.

Resourceful. "You think I had better simulate insanity?" said the accused man. "I do," answered the adviser. "What's the best way?" "Well, you're no actor, of course. If I were you I'd get some South Africa war maps and repeat the geographical names over and over. In the course of a short time I don't believe you'll have to pretend at all."—Washington Star.

There was a called meeting of the council last night attended by Councilmen Davis, Hannan, Bondurant, Johnson, Elliott, Wells, Smith and Jones. Mayor Pro Tem Davis presided.

A communication from Mrs. Mary Alexander stated that a plate glass window in her building, occupied by Hank Bros & Jones, was broken by a workman on the storm water sewerage last week and she desires to be remunerated. The matter was referred to the relief committee.

The council then adjourned.

TO JOLLYIFY IN LOUISVILLE

Republicans Will Turn Their State Convention Into a Big Ratification.

On the occasion of the Republican state convention, which meets in Louisville Tuesday next, the 17th, there will be an excursion train run over the Illinois Central from Fulton up and a very cheap rate will be offered the public. In addition to the convention the party leaders will ratify the nomination of McKinley and Roosevelt and efforts will be made to gather in at the metropolis one of the largest crowds seen there for years. The people should remember this chance to visit the metropolis and at the same time attend the state convention and get ready to go up in large numbers. The delegation to the convention will be as large as conditions will allow and there will be a cordial invitation to all to go along to the big jollification.

ELECTRIC FANS.

The Dick Fowler Equipped With Breeze Makers Today.

Four of the finest electric fans to be procured were this morning added to the elegant equipment of the steamer Dick Fowler, making her cabin as cool as a mountain top.

The Fowler company has inaugurated a plan by which parties of half a dozen or more who desire to take a trip to escape the heat of the city will be accorded a special rate, and it promises to become very popular.

TEACHERS' INSTITUTE.

The Attendance is Better Today Than It Yesterday.

There was an increase in attendance at the teachers institute today, forty-two answering to roll call.

There was a lengthy discussion on the two general methods of teaching, the word and alphabet methods, which consumed the greater part of the forenoon.

It is Now Said That Minister Conger and Party were Alive on the 5th and Under

PROTECTION OF CHINESE

Though the Report is Still Questioned, it Increases the Public Hope Here and in England.

THE EMPRESS IS SAID TO BE IN POWER

LONDON, July 10.—With the foreigners in Pekin probably safe and civil war, with Prince Ching on their side, with the powers united and their forces constantly increasing, the outlook in China is now rather more hopeful than it has been for a month past. It appears from the cautious statement given out by Taotai Sheng in Shanghai that the reason that the heavy guns bearing on the legation at Pekin were not used is that Prince Ching, who is served by 10,000 troops, seized all the artillery ammunition. Sheng likewise intimates that Yung Lu, commander-in-chief of the northern army, is associated with Prince Ching in opposing Prince Tuan's ferocious designs and dictatorial ambition. Sheng, who appears to be the sole Shanghai conduit Pekin, news, sheers the foreign consuls by these confidential communications, but takes excessive precautions to prevent the Chinese from thinking him friendly to the foreigners.

WASHINGTON, July 10.—The news from China relative to the foreigners in Pekin is more cheering. The American consul at Shanghai says rumors report the ministers and their friends safe on the 5th, last Thursday. The report, though credited, is not confirmed.

LONDON, July 10.—The encouraging report is received that the Empress is again in power at Pekin and defeating the foreigners. This with other encouraging reports makes the foreign office hopeful.

LONDON, July 10.—A Shanghai cable says it is known beyond doubt that Minister Conger and family and visitors were all safe on the 5th.

CHE FOO, July 10.—The Ninth regiment of United States infantry landed at Taku Saturday morning from the transport Logan.

The gunboat Nashville returned this afternoon from her visit to the place where the battleship Oregon went aground. The Oregon will probably start for Japan on July 10, stopping en route if the weather is bad. The captain and all the officers on board are in good health.

Ship of Ice. Some idea of the fearful storms on the Black sea can be gained from the picture of the ice-covered ship, recently wrecked in the bay of Novorossisk. The harbor appears to be a veritable haven of rest, says a correspondent, but wind-storms of terrible violence sweep over it in winter time, and when accompanied by rain or snow, were beside the unhappy vessel that hopes to find shelter within the bay. When the Igor was anchored in Novorossisk bay one of these periodical storms descended. The wind was so strong that no one could walk on deck, and when the snow fell it froze immediately—decks, masts, rigging, ropes and spars were covered with ice. The very spray froze as it dashed against the sides of the ship, making the vessel look more like an iceberg than anything else. The passengers and crew were all saved the next morning, but the chief officer died later from the effects of the exposure.—New York Mail and Express.

REFLECTIONS OF A BACHELOR.

Style is born in a woman and born on a man.

People can never fall so deep in love that their ears won't stick out.

A woman without any religion is just as impossible a thing as a baby without any safety-pins.

When a woman is in love she can never pass a knock-kneed cat without getting tears in her eyes.

Looking on the bright side after he is 30 to the average man means hoping he won't have any more babies.

A girl will most always try to blush right after she has asked a man what is a sign of when her lip licks.

Marriage helps a man. Ananias would probably never have got celebrated if it hadn't been for Sapphira.

When a man gets married there are always a lot of women who go around wondering what either of them could have seen in the other.

A woman may not be able to make a man whatever she believes him to be, but she can always make him whatever she can make him believe himself to be.

You would think by the fuss some women make that they expected you to believe they had never been kissed before except by their mothers.—New York Press.

When a girl flirts one man and marries another, both men ought to consider themselves lucky. One gets the girl he wants, and the other finds out she wasn't the girl he wanted.

POWERS

Owing to the Absence of Many Witnesses Will Have to Ask a Continuance.

STATE SAYS IT IS READY

With Seventy Witnesses to Testify Against Powers, Youtsey, Davis, Whittaker and McCombs.

NO TRIAL IS LIKELY TO BE HAD AT ALL

GEORGETOWN, Ky., July 10.—The defense in the Powers case has 80 witnesses absent. They have asked for further time to prepare the case and court has adjourned until tomorrow. It now seems certain that a continuance in Powers' case will have to be asked. If so and it is granted another one of the defendants, Youtsey, Davis, Whittaker or Combs, will be called. The state has 70 witnesses present and says it is ready for all of the cases. There is no excitement over the cases and there is a general opinion that if there is a trial there will be no conviction.

MUSICAL AT LA BELLE

Will Be a Musical Treat and One Worth of a Most Liberal Patronage.

The Sun has before announced that a rich musical treat would be offered the public tomorrow evening at La Belle park, the affair being arranged by Messrs. Halloran and Sinnott for the benefit of the Catholic church. The program justifies all the promises made for the entertainment and there should be a large audience present to enjoy each and every number. The La Belle park theater will be entirely under the control of the managers of this entertainment tomorrow evening. The program to be rendered will be as follows:

2—Vocal Solo.—That Old Sweetheart of Mine, French—Harvey Owsley.

PRISON BABIES. Create a Flinger of Excitement in Their Gloomy Birthplace.

Very few people outside official circles know what a large number of babies are born every year in the infirmaries of prisons and penitentiaries, the little people always causing quite a flutter of attentiveness and excitement among female warders and prisoners alike. Of course there is a vast difference in prisoners, and sometimes the person least attentive to the prison baby is the mother herself; but, on the other hand, the general body of the women prisoners make the most pathetic efforts, by means of all manner of trifling scraps and odds and ends, to decorate articles of wear and ornament for the out-of-place little stranger. Quite three-fourths of the women prisoners to tend it, and it is often the case that the most refractory and difficult of the prisoners soften and greatly alter by being allowed to do little things for it; indeed, it acts throughout like a veritable ray of sunshine among the whole of the poor prisoners, who generally manage to get themselves into great good humor by suggesting as volubly as the prison rules will permit fantastic names for the child. Within a certain period of their birth these children are taken away from the mother and are tended elsewhere with the utmost care and humanity.

A woman's view of society depends on whether she is outside or inside.

QUESTION TESTED.

Ike Cohen Does Not Like the Huckerster Ordinance.

Ike Cohen, the Second street pawnbroker, does not like the city ordinance requiring a license of $3 a day for hawkers and huckersters and has employed Taylor and Eaton to test its constitutionality. He desires to do a huckerster business, but does not want to pay $3 a day for it. It is claimed that the law discriminates by enabling a merchant with a $5000 stock of goods to do business for $15 or $20 a year, while a huckerster, selling the same things, but with perhaps not a $50 stock of goods, is charged $2 a day—over $700 a year, making it prohibitive.

The case will be argued before Judge Sanders tomorrow, and will probably be appealed whichever way it is decided in order to let Judge Husbands settle it finally in the circuit court.

CHILD DIED.

Double Affliction on the Family of the Late William Tatrow.

A telegram was received today by Mr. Wm. McNulty announcing that the little son of the late Wm. Tatrow died on the train that was bearing his remains to Danville, Ill., for interment, last night. The child had been dangerously ill for several days and its mother could not be induced to abandon her idea of accompanying the remains to their last resting place and taking the sick child with her. They left at 8:15 last night and the infant died before the train reached Parker City.

Mr. Tatrow was chef at the Palmer house and died suddenly from apoplexy last Saturday afternoon.

Phonotypewriter. An Englishman, Mr. William Marvin, is the latest claimant for the credit of having perfected a practicable "phonotypewriter." It will be the invention of the century if it fulfills all that Mr. Marvin stoutly claims for it. It is an instrument for recording spoken language, and will reproduce on paper and in a readable manner anything that may be uttered in its presence. A sermon, a speech, legal evidence, spoken in any language, is recorded by it on paper which can be sent by mail like an ordinary letter or document, and read by the recipient as easily as a typewritten communication.

VICTORY

In the November Contest is What Kentucky Republicans See Aired.

ARE QUITE ENTHUSIASTIC

Have Decided to Start the Ball With a Big Ratification in Louisville on the 17th of this Month.

ANTI-GOEBELISM IS THEIR CRY

LOUISVILLE, July 10.—The Republicans are enthusiastic over the conference of the leaders of the party, held here yesterday. They say the ground work was laid for a great victory in November. It was decided to open a "hurrah" campaign with the state convention on the 17th, when a big ratification is to be held of the Philadelphia ticket. Informally the conference decided that anti-Goebel Democrats should be invited to affiliate with the Republicans and expressed the opinion that there should be but one plank in the state platform, and this one was referred to as "anti-Goebelism." The leaders will issue a call in a day or two for the ratification.

Captivating a Queen.

It was by his graceful execution of a dance that young Hutton first captivated the heart of Queen Elizabeth. Edward Scott in his book on "Dancing in All Ages." He had been brought up to the law and entered court, as his enemy, Sir John Perrot, used to say, "by the galliard," as his first appearance there was on the occasion of a mask ball, and her majesty was so struck by his good looks and activity that she made him one of her hand of pensioners, who were considered the handsomest men in England. It is said that the favors which the virgin monarch extended to her new favorite excited the jealousy of the whole court, especially that of the earl of Leicester, who, thinking to depreciate the accomplishments of the young lawyer, offered to introduce to Elizabeth's notice a professional dancer whose salutory performances were considered far more wonderful than Hutton's. To this suggestion, however, the royal lady, with more vehemence than elegance, exclaimed: "Fie! I will not see your man. It is his trade."

REPUBLICAN TICKET.

For President.
WILLIAM M'KINLEY,
Of Ohio.

For Vice President.
THEODORE ROOSEVELT,
Of New York.

The Democrats are explaining why they left some things out of their national platform. They will soon be trying to explain also why they put some things therein.

The people of the world, who only a few months since learned more than they ever knew about Spain, Cuba and the Philippines and later were forced to gain information relative to South Africa, are just now studying Chinese geography. Wars are truly educating.

A trio of would-be-Bryans, Stevenson and 16 to 1.

It is of great importance to America to keep the Bull, the Bear, etc., out of China, that the Kingdom may not go to pieces. The trade of China is too healthy to be split.

Roosevelt has spoken of it as "the big war from '61 to '65." That is clear and soothing to the interested and a designation which should stand.

The Democrats are honestly saying they believe they can carry Illinois and Wisconsin in November—the former with Stevenson's aid and the latter because of the German disaffection. The Democrats are nothing if not good at claiming everything in sight, but as it will do the Republicans good it will do no harm to let this claim go for all it may be worth.

The farm price of wheat on December 1st in each year of President Cleveland's administration averaged 54.1 cents per bushel. Under the McKinley administration the average price has been 67.5 cents per bushel, an increase of 25 per cent over the Democratic price.

Washington exercised the veto power twice, Monroe but one time, Lincoln three times, and McKinley four times. Tolerance and confidence in the ordinate branches of the government have characterized the actions of our greatest presidents.

There are a number of so-called Democratic papers in this state which haven't and will not put up the Kansas City ticket. They can't and won't endorse the 16 to 1 plank even if it is already a dead issue. There are quite a number of sound money Democrats, and this is one of the evidences of this fact.

There were no statesmen at the Kansas City convention. Every speech made showed the gathering one of office seekers, and when this is said all is said. The leaders of old of the party have clearly abandoned it to a wreckless gang.

THE OUTLOOK TO DEMOCRATS.

Louisville Commercial: "In 1896 Bryan received 176 votes, forty-eight less than a majority. Give him every state he carried then, and where are his votes to come from? Present him with Kentucky, Indiana, West Virginia and Maryland, and he will not get an electoral vote in any of them, and he would still lack several votes of an election. Give him New York and Indiana, and if he loses Kentucky, Maryland and West Virginia, he will be beaten. He carried South Dakota, Wyoming and Kansas the last time. He will lose them this year. These seventeen votes subtracted from the 176 votes cast for him in 1896 would leave him sixty-five votes less than the 234 necessary to an election. There is no consolation in the figures anywhere for Bryan.

THE SOLE ISSUE.

Lexington Herald (Dem.): "In this state the sole issue upon which the people will divide will be the repeal or continuance of the Goebel law. Kentucky can prosper under any policy which is endurable by any other state or section. She has distinct interests which it is the duty of her people to protect, but she has no interest comparable to the restoration and preservation of civil liberty, which is based upon a free and honest ballot box.

"We believe that a majority of the Democrats of Kentucky regard this as the one vital issue. Power of party association, influence of party prejudice, the ineradicable passions which party contests create, the fear of personal and political ostracism, will no doubt make many hundreds if not thousands of excellent men vote for the Democratic ticket, in spite of their judgment that the state issues are the most important.

"We believe that so long as the Goebel law remains on the statute book, so long as there is power given to a practically irresponsible board to appoint irresponsible boards and to control their irresponsible and irreverent decision the elections of Kentucky and to declare the elected defeated and the defeated elected, the duty of Kentucky is to do whatever may be necessary to overthrow that system; and we believe that this can be done only by the overwhelming defeat of every nomination made by every convention which endorses the Goebel law or which refuses to declare its opposition to that bill and its desire for its repeal."

WOMAN'S NIGHTMARE.
The Shudders When She Realizes the Danger and Pain of Child-bearing.

There is so much suffering and danger in store for the young mother, that her happy anticipation soon gives way to a feeling of dread at the thought of the pain which she must undergo. This sorrow comes upon her upon the mind of many women that it fills them with terror and makes baby's coming a source of the greatest anxiety and dread.

All the suffering and danger of the ordeal can be avoided by the use of "Mother's Friend," which prepares the body for this important event. It relieves "morning sickness," and many other unpleasant conditions which exist during this time. Thousands of women praise "Mother's Friend" for bringing them safely through the most critical period of their lives.

Every woman should send their name and address to the Bradfield Regulator Co., Atlanta, Georgia, and receive free, valuable information on the subject.

THE POETS SAY:

LOVE.
"Love is the breath of roses."
He said to the maiden fair:
"Love is the light of heaven,
Love is the scented air;
Love is the lofty mountain,
Love is the spreading sea;
Love is a mighty river,
Love is the placid sea."

The girl felt an arm around her,
She gently inclined her head,
And she closed her eyes and she waited
And after a while she said:
"Love may be plains and mountains
And oceans that ebb and flow—
I find that its awfully pleasant,
And I guess that's enough to know."

AN OLD-TIME SINGER.

I don't want any hymnbook when the Methodist is nigh,
A-lin' out the ol' ones that went thrillin' to the sky
In the old camp meeting seasons, when 'twas "glory hallelu!"
An "brother rise and tell us what the Lord has done for you!"

For I know them songs so perfect that when I git the swing
Of the tune they want to go to I kin shet my eyes an' sing!
"On Jordan's Stormy Banks" an' ol' "Amazing Grace"—they seem so nat'ral, I'm like some one that's singin' in a dream!

Oh, when it comes to them ol' songs I allus does my part,
An' I've got my ol' time Bible down, as you might say by heart!
When the preacher says the fast word in the givin' of his text
I smile with satisfaction, 'cos I know what's coming next!

The wife says, "That's amazin'!" an' the preacher says—says he,
With lots o' meanin' in his voice, an' lookin' queer at me—
"Sence you know more o' the Bible than the best of us kin teach, Don't you think you orter practice what you're payin' us to preach?"

Well, that gits me in a corner—an' I sorter raise my eyes,
An' the tune about them titles to the "mansions in the skies!"
I want the benediction then—I'm ready to depart!

But when it comes to singin'—well, I've got the hymns by heart.

An' his mozer sinks 'e world of him, she does.

Now, don't oo laugh at me, oo little nuggins;
Or I'll take him in my arms an, O! I'll huggins!"

(Its Father.)
"Here quit your pullin' at my hair! let go my beard!
With your infernal yellin' I swear you've got me queered.

Not one minute's peace I've had since you arrived;
Shet up! or by the eternal, 'll I'll tan your hide!"

(Its Brother.)
"It's mighty tough, you bet, to watch this kid;
Why, he kicked me in the mouth just now! He did!

O' How I wish that he was miles and miles away, Mebbe I wouldn't see that baseball game—well, say!"

DISCONSOLATE MAN.
When God had set the stars in space,
And made the land and sea,
And raised the rugged mountains high
And turned the rivers free

And peopled all the woods, the air
And fields and streams, he stood
And gazed a while upon his work
And said that it was good.

There stands a man haranguing men,
Across the crowded way:
"It's wrong! It's wrong! It's deadly wrong!"

I hear him wildly say,
And while he talks and while they hear,
The winds God made to blow
Keep blowing and the winding streams
With faith unblenished flow

The mountains grand as ever stand,
The sea is in its place;
Serene and green the fruitful plain Turns up a smiling face;

The birds are singing songs of hope
As loudly as they can,
And God is still acknowledged good
By all on earth but man!

—[S. E. Kiser.]

GREAT TRUTHS.
Great truths are portions of the soul of man;
Great souls are portions of eternity;
Each drop of blood that runs through true heart ran,
With lofty message, ran for thee and me;

For God's law, since the starry song began,
Hath been and still forevermore must be
That every deed which shall outlast time's span
Must goad the soul to be erect and free;

Slave is no word of deathless lineage sprung—
Too many noble souls have thought and died,
Too many mighty poets lived and sung;
And our good Saxon, from lips purified

With martyr fire, throughout the world hath rang

Too long to have God's holy cause denied.
—[James eRussell Lowell.]

FROM THE SONG OF THE CANOE.
Dip! Dip!
And I thrill with the start—
For the ripples and the waters part
At the song the paddle sings.

Drip! Drip!
And lo it brings
The word of a sweet command to me,
And leaping to answer it—I am free!
Water-woods weaving in vain to stay me,
Fain, fain,
And the reeds arrayed at my prow to delay me—
Vain, vain,
They cast their lure and they bid me bide,
For the paddle swinging along my side—
Dip! Dip!
Hath a dearer bribe than the still things know
And I go, I go!

Glide! Glide!
Across the calm of the evening tide
When the first white stars begin.
Creep! Creep!
Where the lilies sleep—
Stars in a sky as soft, as deep—
The paddle singing me in.

Hush! Hush!
For the tall reeds brush
My side as though they love me!
Rest! Rest!
On the inlet's breast
With the roof of the leaves above me.

CALL FOR CONVENTION

Of Republicans of McCracken County for Saturday, July 14th, at the City Hall.

By authority of the state central committee, the county committee of McCracken county met July 5th and ordered a county mass convention of the Republican party to be held at the city hall in Paducah, Ky., on Saturday, July 14th, at 2 o'clock p. m., for the purpose of sending delegates to the state convention to be held at Louisville, Ky., July 17th, 1900; said convention is to be held for the purpose of nominating a candidate for governor of the state of Kentucky.

The Republican electors of this county, and all voters who are opposed to Goebelism, theft of office; those who believe in a rule by the majority, a free ballot and fair count; those who desire to redeem our state and perpetuate the fundamental principles of our government; those who value their civil liberty and political freedom, to these and to all good citizens we extend a cordial invitation to participate in this convention and urgently request their attendance.

Observations
....at Random

It begins to look as if the city is going to be depopulated as a result of the daily exodus of people to the various summer resorts or to visit friends and relatives in other places. Nearly all the trains leaving the city are crowded, and the hackmen are becoming rich, as no one would think of walking to the depot even if the weather were not so excessively hot—and it isn't everyone who owns a carriage.
The insufferable heat, together with the tearing up of the odoriferous disease reeking gutters on Broadway, renders the season a most opportune one to visit elsewhere.

Speaking of heat, Paducahans seem able to stand a great deal of it. The thermometer these days seldom falls below 90, but on the contrary seems to delight in hovering about the 100 mark, which, however, it has not yet reached this year. In other cities when the mercury goes up to 90 and 95 the papers make quite a "howdy-do" over it and seem to think it wonderful, indeed.

More than $15,000,000 worth of the old-fashioned fractional paper currency is still outstanding, and though some of it has doubtless been destroyed, the bulk of it is held by collectors and private individuals, according to Washington information. Every now and then some old person dies, and the heirs, finding a quantity of the "shinplasters" in a disused pocketbook or some other hiding place, send them to Washington to be redeemed. Occasionally, too, banks forward quite a lot of the notes in unbroken sheets, just as they got them many years ago. At first these sheets had to be cut apart with scissors, but afterward they were perforated like postage stamps so as to be torn apart. Not long ago the treasury received a handkerchief full of this currency, of the first issue, each note being signed by Treasurer Spinner with his own hand.

About $3000 worth of this fractional paper comes in for redemption each year, and some of the best of it is saved out by the department to be given away in response to applications from collectors.

Twelve Hours of Agony That Seemed

Like Years

The following are extracts from a letter from a sergeant in the Seaforth highlanders, dated Dec. 10, says the London Telegraph: "The Black Watch

in front made an attempt to charge the position, but we had to retire and simply run for it, the enemy blazing at us all the way and cropping our fellow fellows like stalks from their splendid positions. There was nothing for it but to lie down and pretend to be dead, and this I did about 5:30 a. m., till, I presume, 6 p. m., the sun pouring down on me all the time, and not a drink of water all day, and dare not stir hand or foot, and expecting every minute to be my last. I could hear nothing but the cries, moans and prayers of the wounded all around me, but I wasn't so much as look up to see who they were. Shots and shells were going over me all day from the enemy and our side, and plenty of them striking within a yard of me—I mean bullets, not shells, and yet they never hit me. I believe some of the fellows lost their heads and walked right up to the enemy's place, singing till they dropped them. One young fellow lying close to me said he would make a dart for it about 3 p. m. I tried my best to persuade him not to, but he would go. A couple of seconds later I could hear them pitting at him, and then his groans for about a minute, and then he was quiet. About this time the sun began to get fearfully hot, and I began to feel it in the legs, which were now very painful and swollen, because I was parched with thirst. Most of the wounded round me had ceased groaning by this time.
As it began to get dark I managed to wiggle my body through the shrub further back, and after I had been at it some time, on looking up, found myself right in front of another in-trenchment of the enemy. They sent a few rounds at me, but they struck —in front and ricocheted over my head. After a bit, it getting darker, I got up and walked by, and there was nothing but dead highlanders all over the place."

HOME OF THE FRIENDLESS

Words of Praise Meted Out Which Call for the Liberty Solicited.

(Communicated.)

In the bustle and confusion of our busy life in the city of Paducah—unless we stop to note the rapid progress of our city along all lines, social and commercial—we do not begin to realize what we have accomplished in the last few years. Especially is it a source of joy to our people to realize what we are doing for the spiritual elevation of our city. When a friend visits as we point with pride to our beautiful churches—none to be surpassed anywhere—indeed a stranger in our city for a few hours not long since passing over Broadway and standing at Seventh street remarked that he had never seen so much religion in brick and mortar in his life.

Our Y. M. C. A. has been a constant source of help and inspiration to our own as well as to the strange young men coming to Paducah. But possibly no building in this city has been a more forcible exponent of the truth that "the greatest thing in the world" is love than an unpretentious looking building out in the suburbs of the city, bearing the inscription over the gate, "Home of the Friendless." This home has been kept up for five years through the generous contributions of the city of Paducah.

The most morbid pessimist would be converted to an optimistic way of looking at life if he were only a member of the board of directors, for to see the good in human nature one has only to go collecting for the home, as the ladies do every month, to the merchants, the grocers and to the market every day. Rarely indeed have they ever been refused help for the suffering and helpless. Surely a more generous hearted community does not exist than the one in which we live. As a proof of this fact our citizens are now contributing generously that we may build a commodious house that will be a credit to the city of Paducah. The board of directors already have the deed to 200 feet of ground in a desirable part of the city, the larger part of which is a gift from Dr. S. B. Caldwell. Also we have the deed to a home and lot valued at $600 from Mr. Armour Garner, with permission to sell and invest the proceeds in the new home. Our list of contributions will be published in full in our Sunday papers, by which time we hope the amount may be increased to $3000.

While we are hearing rumors of wars, of pestilence that walketh in darkness, of starvation and persecution abroad, the people of Paducah are sitting in their comfortable homes unmolested and undisturbed by any of these calamities. Let us hasten the erection of an attractive, comfortable home in our midst for friendless little children and women who have no conception of the real meaning of the word. The larger the building the greater number we may be able to reach and care for. What more fitting memorial may we build to commemorate God's goodness to our fair city? Every one is asked to give something however small—this week.

The contributions will be gratefully received by the secretary or any member of the board.

"Then shall the righteous answer him saying, Lord, when saw we thee hungered and fed thee, or thirsty and gave thee drink? When saw we Thee a stranger and took thee in? And the King shall answer: Verily I say unto you inasmuch as ye have done it unto the least of these, ye have done it unto me."

WITHOUT FUEL

This Engine Runs, Furnishing Considerable Power.
A new power engine, which is operated without fuel, steam, electricity or other propelling force, is the invention of W. G. Simons, of this city. The machine is the nearest to perpetual motion that can be made, and is in successful operation. The invention is simple and inexpensive. It consists of two upright axes, between which steel balls work upon worms. The weight of the balls forms the power. There is no fuel, no water, no trouble. All the expense of operation is for lubricating oil, and the machine will run until it is worn out, without any attention except to check it when not in use. The plan is simple. There is one upright axle, about which is constructed a worm, arranged so that it winds quite closely. Held against this worm are case-hardened steel balls, kept one by a groove, out of which they cannot move sideways. At the base of this is a cog wheel moving in the same direction as the worm, and this works into another cog wheel, which operates another upright axle, upon which is another worm. The second worm is only one-sixth the diameter of the first one, and the coils of the worm are four times as far apart. The principle of the machine is that while four balls are descending on the large worm one ball is being forced up on the small one and moves up with four times the rapidity with which it had come down. This keeps four balls descending while one is being elevated, and after it has descended it drops back again to connect with the large worm. There is a governor at the top to check the speed of the machine. Mr. Simons has a model, a very small affair, to which he has attached a sewing machine, but even with this he finds too much power. It is estimated that these machines may be made to develop high power, although the cheapness of construction would probably favor more machines and not such large ones where great power is needed. The larger and taller these machines the greater the gravity and a consequent increase in speed and power.

ANTIQUITY OF MAN.
With Special Reference to the Stone Age in Egypt.
Sir John Evans dealt with the antiquity of man, with special reference to the stone age in Egypt, in a presidential address delivered by him at the Birmingham and London Times. He said that forty years ago the almost universal belief of those who had but superficially approached the question was that a literal interpretation was to be placed on the opening chapters of the book of Genesis, and that the chronology of Archbishop Usher and others in fixing the creation of man at the year 4004 B. C. was beyond all reasonable question. It was not until 1859, when the subject was investigated by the late Sir Joseph Prestwich himself and others, that the presence of objects of human workmanship in association with the remains of extinct mammals in beds of gravel, sand and loam was almost universally regarded as an established fact. The uncontinued studies of Joseph Landon of Salford college, Birmingham, had resulted in his discovery in the gravels of the valley of the River of the implement of the same general type as those from many other valleys in England and France, but formed from a different material, pebble and not, as usual, chipped out of flint. If further discoveries of this kind were made our present views as to the northern limits of the existence of such implements would have to be materially modified, and the area over which the discovery of this character were made might be considerably extended. Assuming that the occupation of the earth by man had been continuous, there must at some time or other have been a transition from the paleolithic stage culture to the neolithic, but of such transition little trustworthy indications have as yet been found, and over a great part of Europe, at all events, there appeared to be "a great gap fixed," which at present it was impossible to bridge over in a satisfactory manner.

ON SIDE PATH AND BOULEVARD
The last report of Treasurer Tattersall of the League of American Wheelmen shows the league to have a balance of $3,238.68.
The New Hampshire division of the League of American Wheelmen is now constructing roads connecting Dover, Summersworth and Nashua with the Massachusetts line.

A lady in Sacramento, Cal., claims proudly to be the authorized descendant of the original inventor of the pedal-propelled bicycle. She has a machine which she claims was built by her father in France prior to 1840. How much prior is not stated. She is probably waiting to name the exact date until she learns what others have to claim. She can then go their one better.

Returns just published by parliament show that during 1895 exactly 6,108 cyclists were arrested in England for violations of the highway act. Of the number, 5,515 were fined. Only 514 of the unfortunate were women. While the number appears large, it is small by comparison with the arrests of drivers and horsemen for offenses against the same law, of whom there were 11,045. The law covers scoring, failure to carry lights, etc.

The prince of Wales has joined the ranks of automobilists, and a 10-horsepower Daimler-hooded phaeton, specially constructed for him, is now on view at a carriage store in St. James street, London. The prince intends to use it at Sandringham, and has already had several lessons in the art of auto-driving. This car has every latest improvement, the vibration being reduced to a minimum by a new patent. It cost the prince $5,000, but any one else would have to pay $15,000.

Coffee in Jamaica.
You see all those bushes with red berries hanging from the branches? That is coffee and the taller trees among which it is growing are pimento, from which the world gets its "allspice," says Good Words. It looks like jungle, does it not? Yet many hundreds of pounds would not buy that coffee. Among the lovely flowers humming birds sparkle as they fly and hover; butterflies as large as the birds dart the honey with them. As you turn round the corner you surprise parties of tiny ground doves, and every now and again the larger pea hen sits on the road. Up from the valley below the sounds of voices and laughter. Stop your carriage and look down. Those are the work on a coffee estate, and those flat terraces partitioned off into squares are the "barbecues" upon which the berries are dried. You can see that some of the newer ones are different from the rest. The dark ones are those that are covered with coffee berries; the others are those which have not yet been filled.

An Open House.
In the "Studies from the Psychological Laboratory of Chicago" there is a short report by Prof. Buck on the overestimation of vertical as compared with horizontal lines. The overestimation was found to be slightly increased by placing the observer on his side, so that the head and eyes were at right angles to their usual position. This is regarded as an argument against the explanation of the illusion by eye movement.

A SERVANT GIRLS' LEADER.
This Danish Woman Achieved World-Wide Fame.
Marie Christensen is only a Danish servant girl, but she has succeeded in making herself famous not only in Europe, but in this country as well, for she it is who organized the women servants of Copenhagen, her native city, into a union a few months ago, from which central organization delegates of Europe, and there are now delegates, or missionaries, in this country. The Copenhagen Servants' union has 1,500 members. It demands nine hours' labor for women, doing household work, further work to be paid for extra. They also demand one room to each servant, the same food as used by the family, and leisure time to be used according to their own pleasure, and if during this time remaining in the house not to be called on for service. Naturally the union and its demands raised opposition. A Servant Employers' association was formed in Copenhagen, and this brought about a third organization, philanthropic in its aim and intended to aid what they call "the martyrs of modern civilization." The socialist classes of Europe at once endorsed Marie Christensen's plan. Marie Christensen is described as a woman seemingly above her class in life, but with all the zeal of an enthusiast. She is employed in a Copenhagen family and is considered a model servant. She seems to highly value the newspaper, not only given her and her organization, having said that "next to the Bible a great newspaper is the best educator of the masses," and the newspaper agitation on her aims and object will be a great help.

ANTIQUITY OF MAN.
With Special Reference to the Stone Age in Egypt.
Sir John Evans dealt with the antiquity of man, with special reference to the stone age in Egypt, in a presidential address delivered by him at the Birmingham and London Times. He said that forty years ago the almost universal belief of those who had but superficially approached the question was that a literal interpretation was to be placed on the opening chapters of the book of Genesis, and that the chronology of Archbishop Usher and others in fixing the creation of man at the year 4004 B. C. was beyond all reasonable question. It was not until 1859, when the subject was investigated by the late Sir Joseph Prestwich himself and others, that the presence of objects of human workmanship in association with the remains of extinct mammals in beds of gravel, sand and loam was almost universally regarded as an established fact. The uncontinued studies of Joseph Landon of Salford college, Birmingham, had resulted in his discovery in the gravels of the valley of the River of the implement of the same general type as those from many other valleys in England and France, but formed from a different material, pebble and not, as usual, chipped out of flint. If further discoveries of this kind were made our present views as to the northern limits of the existence of such implements would have to be materially modified, and the area over which the discovery of this character were made might be considerably extended. Assuming that the occupation of the earth by man had been continuous, there must at some time or other have been a transition from the paleolithic stage culture to the neolithic, but of such transition little trustworthy indications have as yet been found, and over a great part of Europe, at all events, there appeared to be "a great gap fixed," which at present it was impossible to bridge over in a satisfactory manner.

Setting a Good Example.
The directors of a French railroad, the Compagnie d'Orleans, recently notified advertisers that after one month all the posters, pictures and bills announcing their drugs, pills and embrocations along the line of route will be abolished, so that the traveler will find more to be able to gaze upon the fields and hills and homesteads without being reminded at every few yards of the tomb.

Anger comes in England.
Strange as it may seem, there is in England itself a compact Dutch colony 300 strong. Two years since these men were imported from Holland in connection with the great industry at Thorne, in the West Riding. At first their arrival gave rise to some trouble, and extra police were necessitated, but they have since become naturalized, and now live on quite amicable terms with their English neighbors.
